As most Society members already know, the ongoing shortage of nurses, technicians, medical secretaries and other health care professionals has forced medical facilities increasingly to fill positions with temporary personnel through contractual arrangements with staffing firms. The Joint Commission's certification program, launched in October 2004, offers an independent, comprehensive evaluation of a medical staffing firm's abilities to provide competent staffing services.

In order to serve its clients better, Winston, in business since 1967, underwent an on-site review of its compliance with national standards addressing how staffing firms determine the qualifications and competency of their staff, how they place their staff and how they monitor staff's performance.

"Winston's JCAHO Certification recognizes our dedication to delivering medical staff qualified to provide safe, high quality care to patients" says Todd Kaye, President of Winston Support Services, LLC. "We're proud to receive the Joint Commission's Gold Seal of Approval™."

"Health care organizations that contract with Winston can look to this certification as an assurance that Winston demonstrates a commitment to providing and continuously improving quality services," says Michele Sacco, M.S., Executive Director, Health Care Staffing Services Certification, Joint Commission.
